

POLITICAL POINTS.

PENNSYLVANIA AND TENNESSEE.

The Situation of Affairs at Harrisburg and Nashville.—Sen. Butler Nominated for United States Senator.—The New York Legislature and Other Matters.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Democratic caucus for the selection of a candidate for United States Senator was held to-night. Senator Waterhouse was chosen chairman. Senator Gordon, of Philadelphia, in a speech stated the situation in which the Republican party stood, and he endeavored to have the caucus adjourn until to-morrow, as they might view the situation in favor of taking advantage of an alliance with the Republicans where the interests of the State could best be served. The caucus was defeated, and a vote of 61 to 21, Senator W. A. was re-nominated on the first ballot for the candidate for United States Senator. The caucus takes place to-morrow. Both the Grover and McKim factions stand in the same position as before the caucus of last Thursday. An address by Senator McNeill, chairman of the regular caucus, was issued this evening. It claims that the caucus of the Grover faction is illegal, and that the caucus of the McKim faction is illegal. It is signed by all those in the caucus to-night who said out of the caucus. The balance are expected to affix their signatures to-morrow.

Tennessee's New Governor.—Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 17.—The Democratic caucus for the selection of a candidate for United States Senator was held to-night. Senator Waterhouse was chosen chairman. Senator Gordon, of Philadelphia, in a speech stated the situation in which the Republican party stood, and he endeavored to have the caucus adjourn until to-morrow, as they might view the situation in favor of taking advantage of an alliance with the Republicans where the interests of the State could best be served. The caucus was defeated, and a vote of 61 to 21, Senator W. A. was re-nominated on the first ballot for the candidate for United States Senator. The caucus takes place to-morrow. Both the Grover and McKim factions stand in the same position as before the caucus of last Thursday. An address by Senator McNeill, chairman of the regular caucus, was issued this evening. It claims that the caucus of the Grover faction is illegal, and that the caucus of the McKim faction is illegal. It is signed by all those in the caucus to-night who said out of the caucus. The balance are expected to affix their signatures to-morrow.

An Election Investigation.—Baltimore, Md., Jan. 17.—The investigation committee of the legislature in connection with the election of William R. Murphy, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in the election of last November, is continuing its work. The committee is now investigating the election of William R. Murphy, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in the election of last November. The committee is now investigating the election of William R. Murphy, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in the election of last November.

Colorado Politics.—Denver, Colo., Jan. 17.—The reported antagonism which Senator Chaffee manifested toward Governor Rout, and which caused the latter great annoyance, the Governor says he knows positively that Chaffee has personally addressed in his election campaign, and that he has exerted such influence with the leading Blaine men as to win them from strong opposition to his support.

Butler Nominated for Senator.—Boston, Jan. 17.—By a unanimous vote of 75 the Democratic Legislature of Massachusetts voted to-day to re-nominate Senator Butler for United States Senator, to be voted for in place of Senator Dawes. Should not election be had on the first ballot, they will be ready to combine with the Republicans to elect a Republican.

The New York Legislature.—Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The Legislature to-day adopted a resolution tendering General Grant a reception at a date yet to be determined. A joint committee was appointed to wait upon General Grant and to make arrangements for his reception. The Democratic Legislature also to-night nominated Senator Kernan to be his own successor.

The Polignone Problem.—A prominent member of Congress states that President Hayes said that while he admitted the fact of the Governor of Utah in his position to the fact that he had been in the position of giving the certificate of election to the minority candidate for Congress. The gentleman stated that "if Governor Murray has thus acted under the supposition that he was carrying out the President's order, it is a matter of which the President is not to be held responsible."

A Black Eye.—"Doesn't that settle the case in your favor, Senator?" said a Republican to the long prospected Senator from Louisiana, shortly after the adjournment of the Senate to-day.

The Kellogg Case Disposed of.—Yesterday in the Senate Mr. Sausbury moved that the pending order (the Kellogg bill) be laid on the table in order to proceed with the Kellogg case. The motion was voted down—yeas, 20; nays, 80.

The Kellogg Case Disposed of.—Yesterday in the Senate Mr. Sausbury moved that the pending order (the Kellogg bill) be laid on the table in order to proceed with the Kellogg case. The motion was voted down—yeas, 20; nays, 80.

Monsieur Thompson's Remarks.—The French Panama Canal Company was heard before the House Committee on Intercommerce yesterday morning through its accredited agent, Monsieur Thompson, ex-Secretary of the Navy. The venerable president of the American branch spoke in English, and urged that the French people had no objections to any of the terms proposed by the company, and that the company had received its charter from the French government, and had been granted the right of way by the French government.

The Yorktown Bill as Passed.—The Yorktown Centennial Celebration bill, which the Senate yesterday creates the members of the committee appointed last year (consisting of Messrs. Thurman, Voorhees, Wiley, Williams, and Bayard).

Causes of Republican Senators.—The Republican Senators were held yesterday morning in the Senate Chamber. The Kellogg case was first discussed, and it was determined that the Democrats developed stronger interest in the Kellogg case than the Republicans. The Kellogg case was first discussed, and it was determined that the Democrats developed stronger interest in the Kellogg case than the Republicans.

ROCHELLE ROBINSON.

ONCE EXPELLED FROM THE HOUSE.

Twice Elected as a Member—A Veteran Journalist's Interesting Recollections of Celebrated Characters—Penny and Tragic Deaths in Congressional Life.

Ben Resolves to Persist.—Senator Ben Hill, in speaking last night of the effort made yesterday to take up the case of Senator Kellogg, said that for the last two months he has felt convinced that it would be impossible to secure any action during the session of the Senate. He said that he would make another effort to take up the Kellogg case, and will persist in this from day to day until a final vote is reached.

Senate Continuances.—The Senate in executive session yesterday considered the following nominations: John M. Morton, Illinois, now Consul at Bremen, to be Consul-General at St. Petersburg; To be Indian Agents—Robert H. Milroy, for the Nisqually Agency, Washington Territory; John D. Miles, Cheyenne and Arapahoe Agency, Indian Territory; John Young, at the Blackfoot Agency, Montana; James H. Wilbur, Yakima Agency, Washington Territory, and a number of postmasters.

Judge Taylor's Case.—Hon. Frank Hurd made an argument before the Senate Committee in defense of his friend, Judge Taylor, General Grant's successor for the Nineteenth Ohio District. The committee will take action to-day in the matter. They will also take action upon the report of the committee on the case of Judge Taylor, General Grant's successor for the Nineteenth Ohio District.

Dr. Loring's Contest.—This was the day on which was expected the contest between Dr. Loring and his opponent, Dr. Loring, in the election of last November. The contest was expected to be a close one, and it was expected that Dr. Loring would be elected.

Grant's Albany Reception.—Albany, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The reception of General Grant this afternoon was one of the greatest public demonstrations ever witnessed in this city. The committee of the legislature in connection with the election of William R. Murphy, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in the election of last November, is continuing its work.

The Whitaker Case.—New York, Jan. 17.—It is stated to-night arrangements for counsel in the Whitaker case. The committee of the legislature in connection with the election of William R. Murphy, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in the election of last November, is continuing its work.

A Virginia Tragedy.—Richmond, Va., Jan. 17.—A letter from Keyville, Charlotte County, Virginia, gives the particulars of a crime committed near that place on Sunday last. The victim was a young man, and the crime was a murder.

In the House of Commons.—London, Jan. 17.—Mr. Parnell in the House of Commons last night denied that his party were obstructing the proceedings of the House. He said that his party were not obstructing the proceedings of the House.

A Disobedient Act.—Detroit, Mich., Jan. 17.—A shocking tragedy was enacted at Lapeer, a village several miles north of Detroit, last evening. While the people were at church, a fire broke out, and a number of people were killed.

Southern Fire-Alert.—William L. Yancey, of Alabama, (Clingman's) speech was very bitter, and provoked young Yancey to a violent outburst. He was very angry, and he was very angry.

Army and Navy News.—Surgeon W. K. Van Ruyven has been ordered to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital. The Surgeon was ordered to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital.

At Mr. Wilkins' residence, that night, and Yancey, coming in from the bloodless battle-field, was the observed of all observers, and he was very angry.

At Mr. Wilkins' residence, that night, and Yancey, coming in from the bloodless battle-field, was the observed of all observers, and he was very angry.

At Mr. Wilkins' residence, that night, and Yancey, coming in from the bloodless battle-field, was the observed of all observers, and he was very angry.

At Mr. Wilkins' residence, that night, and Yancey, coming in from the bloodless battle-field, was the observed of all observers, and he was very angry.

KIDWELL BOTTOMS.

HOW THE FLATS WERE LOCATED.

The Whole Correspondence on the Subject Between the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Authorities of Major Twiss' Plans for Improvement.

The examination of the records of the Land Office, showed that the correspondence took place in 1873 in reference to the validity of the claims of certain parties to Kidwell bottoms, and also as to when and under what circumstances patents were issued to those parties.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

On examination of the records and files in this office I find that one patent appears to have been issued to John L. Kidwell on the 30th day of December, 1873, for a parcel of land near and adjacent to the Washington and Annapolis River, separated from the main land by a boat channel from three to five feet wide, and extending from Twenty-first street to Essey's ship-yard, as per patent accompanying copy of the patent herewith.

PUT UP OR SHUT UP.

THE COURT ORDERS THAT THE ALIENY MUST BE PAID BY EX-SENATOR CHRISTIANITY BEFORE HE CAN PROCEED FURTHER—His Counsel Says That It Will Be Paid.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

PUT UP OR SHUT UP.

THE COURT ORDERS THAT THE ALIENY MUST BE PAID BY EX-SENATOR CHRISTIANITY BEFORE HE CAN PROCEED FURTHER—His Counsel Says That It Will Be Paid.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

PUT UP OR SHUT UP.

THE COURT ORDERS THAT THE ALIENY MUST BE PAID BY EX-SENATOR CHRISTIANITY BEFORE HE CAN PROCEED FURTHER—His Counsel Says That It Will Be Paid.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

PUT UP OR SHUT UP.

THE COURT ORDERS THAT THE ALIENY MUST BE PAID BY EX-SENATOR CHRISTIANITY BEFORE HE CAN PROCEED FURTHER—His Counsel Says That It Will Be Paid.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order of the court and pay the alimony as directed, and requested that measures be taken to enforce the order.

The proceedings in the Christianity divorce suit were brought to a sudden and somewhat unexpected halt yesterday in the Equity Court by Justice Cox. Some time ago Mr. John N. Oliver, counsel for Mrs. Christianity, complained that the plaintiff, Mrs. Christianity, had failed to comply with the order